Allison: Hey everyone! A huge thank you to everyone who shared and listened to our podcast last week. We are so excited for the next coming shows so make sure to keep tuning in.

Anthony: Absolutely! We are excited to once again be broadcasting from the Yellow Flag Studios and we are going to kick off the episode with a quick new brief on things happening this Valentine's weekend.

Allison: There is the Meridian Winter Blast going on all day from February 12th - 14th. You and your sweetheart can enjoy skating, food, and multiple live bands. This event will be located across from Campus Martius Park.

Anthony: Also check out the Valentine's theme escape room. This event will trap you and your valentine in a room until you can complete all the tasks given. This will be going on Friday, February 12th@ 7pm at St. Dunstatants Theatre in Bloomfield Hills.

Allison: For all you single people out there we have't forgotten about you. The Filmore in Detroit will be hosting a Cupid's Undie Run for all singles on February 14th at noon. You could have a chance to meet someone special while running half naked to raise money for the Children's Tumor Foundation.

Anthony: In other news we are excited to welcome our guest.
